

Economic Development
ALLIANCE

For Immediate Release – January 30, 2006

For More Information:

Greg Prestemon, President
Scott J. Drachnik, VP Business Development & Marketing
636-441-6880

Next Alliance Training Seminar February 9

SkillPath to focus on Managing Multiple Projects, Objectives & Deadlines

ST. CHARLES COUNTY, MO --- “Managing Multiple Projects, Objectives & Deadlines” presented by SkillPath will be the next course in the new Alliance training program recently launched by the Economic Development Center (EDC) of St. Charles County.

This two-hour workshop will be held 7:30 a.m. on Thursday, February 9 at St. Peters City Centre and is part of 16 professional training seminars scheduled for 2006. Some courses may qualify for professional education or continuing education credits.

Alliance members may attend the two-hour February 9 event for free. The general public is also welcome and admission is $100. Pre-registration is going on now and the sign-up deadline is February 3.

SkillPath is a premier provider of business training in the United States, Canada, Australia, New Zealand and the UK, delivering more than 20,000 “how-to” sessions around the world each year.

With three tiers of membership starting at $875, the new Alliance currently has more than 70 members and is touted as an exciting new partnership for those who want to grow their organizations, continue growing St. Charles County and network with like-minded individuals.

“The Alliance has really hit the ground running,” said Greg Prestemon, EDC president and CEO. “We are closing in our participation goals for 2006, and with the huge success of our kick-off seminar this past month, we are getting great feedback about this new program’s potential for serving the business community.”

90.7 KWMU FM is co-sponsoring the 2006 Alliance series. Additional event sponsorships are still available.

To register or for more information, call the EDC at 636-441-6880 or send an e-mail to: agordon@edcstcharlescounty.com

###