Next Alliance Training Seminar February 23
Successful Project Management Seminar Planned by SkillPath

ST. CHARLES COUNTY, MO --- “The Fundamentals of Successful Project Management” presented by SkillPath will be the next seminar in the new Alliance training program recently launched by the Economic Development Center (EDC) of St. Charles County.

This four-hour workshop will be held from 7:30 a.m. to 12 noon on Thursday, February 23 at St. Peters City Centre and is part of 16 professional training seminars scheduled for 2006. Continuing education credit will be awarded to participants.

Alliance members may attend the four-hour February 23 event for free. The general public is also welcome and admission is $125. Pre-registration is required and the sign-up deadline is February 17.

SkillPath is a premier provider of business training in the United States, Canada, Australia, New Zealand and the UK, delivering more than 20,000 “how-to” sessions around the world each year.

With three tiers of membership starting at $875, the new Alliance currently has more than 70 members and is touted as an exciting new partnership for those who want to grow their organizations, continue growing St. Charles County and network with like-minded individuals.

“Strong businesses mean strong communities,” said Greg Prestemon, EDC president and CEO. “The Alliance is designed to foster professional and corporate growth as well as continued growth and success in St. Charles County.”

90.7 KWMU FM is co-sponsoring the 2006 Alliance series. Additional event sponsorships are still available.

To register or for more information, call the EDC at 636-441-6880 or send an e-mail to: agordon@edcstcharlescounty.com
