3 new tenants, 2 expansions & 2 graduations at EDC business incubators

ST. CHARLES COUNTY, MO --- Three new business tenants, two business expansions and two graduations from the small business incubator facilities operated by the Economic Development Center of St. Charles County are being announced by EDC officials.

New tenants include Feezor Engineering, Inc., a civil engineering and hydrogeological services consultant specializing in the solid waste industry; Macsimum Entertainment, a concert and event promoter for St. Louis and St. Charles Counties that also provides artist development and recording services; and Radilux, Inc., a developer of customer relationship management (CRM) software.

EDC tenants who have recently expanded are Progressive Medical, a distributor of home medical equipment; and Respond Right, a provider of life-saving products, training and operators of an EMS Academy.

The two companies who recently graduated from the EDC incubator program are Keller Williams Realty West, now located in Cottleville, Mo.; and Payment Systems Group, Inc., a technology provider to the electronics payment industry that relocated to Seattle, Wa.

"The resources and opportunities for entrepreneurs to launch their business dreams have never been better than they are right now," said Craig Frahm, the EDC's chief financial officer and incubator manager.

Currently, the EDC is accepting applications through July 1, 2009 for a $5,000 small business grant to cover one year's office rent and training for a new start-up or home-based company.
